Greetings-

Although it's hard to believe, more than six months have passed since Cork & Fork For A Cause. For those who aren't aware, the event drew 120 people and raised in excess of $45,000. These dollars along with an additional commitment from the Jo-Ann Danzis Foundation were combined in a $50,000 gift to Pancreatic Cancer Research at Morristown Medical Center's Simon Cancer Center. While this was an auspicious start, we've been actively pursuing new initiatives.

Foundation Notes-

Giving Inspired by an Extraordinary Life....

Building on last year's success, we wanted to reach higher by setting a goal of raising $250,000 – year end 2019- with a focus on continued support of Dr. Angela Alistar's cutting edge pancreatic cancer research. Click here for more on the research. As part of those efforts, the 2018 Cork & Fork is in the planning stages. Click here for event & sponsorship information.

COLLEGE AMBASSADORS PROGRAM

Recruitment for the 2018-19 Year Begins in August!

March 2018 marked the pilot launch of our College Ambassadors Program. This paid internship taps into select college students from around the country to raise funding for and promote awareness of pancreatic cancer research. The full roll out with open applications will begin this August. Click here for more information.

Jo-Ann Danzis Foundation Pancreatic Scholar 2018

On Thursday October 11 the Jo-Ann Danzis Foundation will be sponsoring a pancreatic cancer research lecture featuring keynote speaker and Danzis Scholar, Dr. Daniel Von Hoff, one of the leading pancreatic cancer researchers in the country. This event, held at Morristown Medical Center, is free and open to the public. Click here for more information
